1.3.70

a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant

Theodore Cottingham, May 4, 2005, Tape 131_3, 10:15 downtown

www.unc.bz

1. I am moving you to a completely new place, one of My choosing; NEW. You will be Me completely, no holds on you. You will be able to walk and play, work and play, play and walk and work as I designed. I give you freedom; I give you Me. And that which thou hast said is true. That which I have said is truth and that that I am now saying is true. I love you; I give you Me. I give you My gardens, My Garden of Gethsemane. I give you My testing and My trial. I give you placid waters, streams of only Me, into My soul/your soul. I love you.
2. I am moving you into a new and larger place of scope, of strength, satisfied not, coming into Me daily, content in only Me; My contentment now flooding you and where I place your feet, your hands and speak your words. I love you. All over the land, the lands, the continents, the cliffs and over I take you. I fly you now with only Me.
3. See what I have said, what I have done, what I have given, what I am giving. Into a larger place, a new place, new quarters, new classes; hungry, hungry, the hungry come, the insatiable come, those who know I am more, and I yearn to give Me them. I love you.
4. Think it not strange the turns, the twists, the trials that come now, turbulence, implacid. Yea, not placid, in turbulence-thought, that which looms to represent not Me.
5. I give you Me, My strength to endure, yea, entrails of only Me. I give you Me down highways many now, flyways, crossways not; yea, lifting My body, with pacemakers not but peace explosions of only Me; in science, in solitude, who I made them to be. I love you. Fashion and form of Me.
6. I give you all: new quarters, new acquaintances, friends who know My name and know theirs; yea, even in fullness. I give you Me; see My Sonshine; I love you. See My rain, I love you. See My nourishment, maturing you day after day as you quest into obedience, giving Me your absolute all; the all that so many know nothing about, but you will share in your new place, your new title, new position, new quarters; new maintenance of only Me, maintenance of My hand coming forth, maintenance by My hand forthwith. I love you. New quarters see. Be Me, fear not My changes mighty and manifold this day. I love you, I love you. Good seventh day. Amen.